

Cocoa Butter Bunnies

solid lotion bars with coconut oil

Ingredients

- 5 ounces cocoa butter
- 1 ounce coconut oil
- 1/4 teaspoon mica* (optional)

*We used: Amber, Lavender, Pink Glimmer, Avocado, Two Tone Blue Green

Makes about twelve 1/2-ounce lotion bars

Directions:

1. Combine cocoa butter and coconut oil in double boiler and heat until fully melted.
2. Mixture may be added directly to molds if colorant is omitted. If using colorant, allow the mixture to cool for 5-10 minutes before adding mica. Mix well, then pour into molds.
3. Transfer molds to refrigerator or freezer immediately. Allow bunnies to chill until fully hardened (about 30 minutes) before removing from mold.

Usage & Packaging:

- Bunnies should be kept cool to avoid melting. We packaged ours in small cellophane bags. They would also look great in glass jars.
- To use as lotion bars, simply rub the bars onto your skin. The bunnies will melt right away, leaving skin coated in hydrating body oil.
- To use as bath melts, drop bunnies into warm bath water. Bunnies will melt in hot water and act as bath oil.
