

Oatmeal Honey Butter Bath Melts

soothing and moisturizing cocoa melts

Ingredients

- 70 grams Organic Cocoa Butter
- 50 grams Organic Virgin Coconut Oil
- 40 grams Organic Oat Flour
- 20 grams Honey Powder

Makes about 14 12-gram bath melts

Directions:

1. Combine cocoa butter and coconut oil in a double boiler and heat until fully melted.
2. In a second heat-proof vessel, mix together oat flour and honey granules.
3. Pour about half of the melted fats into the powders and stir well. Break up any clumps.
4. Pour the slurry of fat and powder back into the double boiler and mix again.
5. Stir the mixture well, then pour into molds. Stop to stir again as needed to keep the oat from settling.
6. Allow the bath melts to cool and harden completely before removing from molds. This step can be sped up by cooling the melts in a refrigerator or freezer.

Usage & Packaging:

- These Oatmeal Honey Butter Bath Melts will be fairly firm once fully cool, but they will still be a bit fragile so should be packed with care. They will be especially susceptible to softening up in warm climates. They look great packaged in our Foil Cups in a Small Cello Bag or large Flint Glass Jar.
- To use, simply drop one or two melts into hot bath water. The fats will melt in a few moments, releasing the oat flour and honey into the bath water. Use caution when exiting the tub, as the melts may cause surfaces to become slippery.
